

NJC pay offer 2022/23 for Inner and Outer London local authorities

London has its own pay spines for inner and outer London to recognise that London Weighting was consolidated into the payspine as part of the London Regional Agreement (known as the Gold Book). UNISON has worked jointly with London Councils to assess the impact of the pay offer for 2022/23 on London pay spines. This has resulted in a position that the flat rate increase on all spinal points in Inner London will be £2,355 and in outer London £2,229. The difference in the two figures is due to the fact that Inner London Weighting was higher London at the point of consolidation.

These figures were arrived at by applying an increase of 10.5% (which is the percentage pay increase for spinal column point 1 in this year's offer) to the London weighting element of both the inner and outer London pay-spines and then applying these increases to all subsequent spinal column points.

The full details of the final NJC pay offer 2022/23 for staff working in inner and outer London authorities can be seen on the attached spreadsheets. All other elements of the offer are the same as set out in the employer's final offer letter dated 25 July 2022.

Outer London local authorities

NJC final pay offer of £1,925 on all pay points from 1 April 2022. This equals 10.5% on SCP1

Equivalent rate for Outer London = £2,229
